Raccoon Rex

by Ruth Donnelly

I walk by night, in darkness.
I sneak without a sound.
I overturn the garbage can.
Oh! What a treat I've found!

I grab the picnic sandwiches.
(I haven't yet been seen.)
I take my bounty to the brook,
And wash it squeaky clean.

I creep up to the campers' tent
And snatch a hot dog bun.
The campers yell. They scream and shout.
But I'm just having fun!

A mask of fur around my eyes,
A smile upon my face,
My paws can open garbage cans.
I move with stealth and grace.

I steal from people's garden plots,
From porches and from decks.
Yes, I'm a fearless bandit--
And my name is Raccoon Rex!

Raccoon Rex

All About Squishy Squid

By Lydia Lukidis

Have you ever seen a squid before? Maybe you caught a glimpse of one of these squishy sea creatures on television or at the aquarium. You may have even seen one in the ocean on a family vacation! There's a lot of fascinating things to know about squid. Let's take a closer look together!

Squid belong to a group of ocean animals called "mollusks." Because squid do not have bones, their bodies are very soft. They are considered invertebrates, which are animals without a backbone. In fact, they do not even have vertebrae, which are the bones that make up your spine. Squid have a long tube-shaped body with a short head. They have eight arms and two tentacles. The tentacles are longer than the arms. There are 4 rows of suction cups on each tentacle. These help the squid catch their prey.

Squid live in both saltwater and fresh water. They like to live quite deep in the ocean. Some can be found more than 13,000 feet (3,962 meters) deep. But sometimes they like to swim in shallower waters, or even along the coast.

Squid are carnivores. That means they only eat meat. They eat lots of fish and shrimp. Sometimes they even eat smaller squid!

You might be surprised to know that squid do not live a very long life. No matter what their size or what they eat, the average lifespan of a squid is only about three to five years.

Scientists have discovered more than 300 types of squid. There could be as many as 200 more types that we still have to discover.

The biggest squid we know about is called the giant squid. It can grow up to 60 feet (18 meters) long and weigh more than 1,000 pounds. That's longer than a school bus! No wonder it's one of the biggest animals on the planet. Everything about the giant squid is giant, including its eyes which are the size of basketballs.

You might be scared if you saw a peculiar-looking squid while you were swimming in the ocean. However, squid are rather shy creatures, and they will certainly want to leave you alone. In fact, squid have more reasons to fear people than we have to fear them.

People capture squid and use them to make a popular dish called "calamari." Many restaurants serve it, and for this reason, fishing for squid has become a big business. If someone put a plate of fried squid in front of you, would you try some? You might be surprised how much you like it!

Video Game Mania

by Kelly Hashway

Paige's eyes widened as she watched Alec's thumbs on the video game controller. His fingers moved so quickly Paige could barely keep up.

"How do you do that? Don't your hands cramp?"

Her brother didn't answer. He was too wrapped up in his video game.

"Want to do something?" Paige asked, trying to spin a basketball on her finger. "I'm bored."

The screen flashed as Alec's game ended. Paige couldn't help smiling. Sure Alec had lost, but that meant he could play with her now. Alec restarted the game, and Paige's smile faded.

"What are you doing?" Paige asked. "I thought you lost."

"I did, but I have to get past this level. Brian beat it last week." Alec's fingers were blurs again, and he didn't take his eyes from the screen.

"Can't you take a break? It's nice out. We could shoot hoops or ride bikes."

"Nah. I've got to get past this level."

"Can I help?" Paige asked, putting the ball down and sitting next to Alec. She wasn't really into video games, but it was better than being bored.

Alec paused the game. "Really?"

"Why not. It might be fun. But after we win, can we go outside?"

Alec shrugged. "Okay." He handed Paige a controller and explained how the game worked.

Paige wasn't very good, and they didn't make it past the level Alec wanted to beat. But they laughed and had fun anyway. After the game ended for the third time, Alec stood up.

"Let's go outside."

"But we didn't beat the level," Paige said.

"It doesn't matter," Alec said.

"What will you tell Brian?"

"That my sister is awful at video games, but she's good at basketball." Alec grabbed the basketball and passed it to Paige.

"Yeah, my thumbs don't move as fast as yours, but I have a great jump shot."

"Okay, your turn to teach me. I want to have a great jump shot, too."

Paige gave Alec a few pointers and his shooting got better. Sweaty and out of breath, Alec turned to Paige and smiled. "Don't tell Brian, but this beats playing video games any day."
